

NCJW Meet Wed.; Aid Paris Students

The membership of the National Council of Jewish Women will hold its first business meeting on Wednesday evening, September 14, in the home economics room at the Center school.

Delegates will be elected to the 19th Triennial Convention to be held in Baltimore from October 23 to 28.

The Overseas Committee announces that to two young students in Paris the Council is now sending a monthly package of staples and will in the future send clothing. Mrs. Ida Tannenbaum, the committee chairman, has received a letter of thanks from the beneficiaries.

Local "All Stars" Play Champs Sat.

Next Saturday night, September 10, at 8 p.m. a picked team of players from the other clubs in the League will play against the season's champions, who will be decided in a play-off series this week between the Old Town, Community Church and Catholic Church teams.

All-Stars Picked

The following players have been selected to play on the All-Star team (unless their team wins the championship) and are asked to be on time for the game:

Goldfaden and Spector of the J.C.C. Fox and Goodman of the Colts. Burt and G. Clay of the Northend. Thompson and Massey of the Cliffdwellers. Frenor, Pierpont and Ruckert of G.C.S. B. Bauer, Reed and Marathohn of the Old Town. Barker, L. Clay and Giauque of the Community Church.

These selections were made to try to give each team fair representation in this game.

Cooperative Eats

After this game is over all players in the League and their wives are invited to attend a party at the GAC clubhouse, where the trophy for the League champs will be presented, and where a good time may be enjoyed by all with refreshments furnished by Greenbelt Consumers Services and the Athletic Club.

GCS Lacks Quorum But Hears Report

Members of Greenbelt Consumer Services met at the Center school last night, witnessed a new film "What Is a Co-op?", heard optimistic board and management reports, and took no action due to lack of a quorum.

Best news from Manager Sam Ashelman concerned the theatre. No longer will Greenbelt "wait on Hyattsville." The theatre here may now show films the second week of the sub-run (release after Washington showings).

Major job of management and board during 1949, Ashelman said, has been to improve the purchasing position of the cooperative. Direct joint buying by cooperatives in the Potomac area has begun, he said, and with decentralization of the cooperative wholesale, direct benefits will result to the consumers.

Trade In Your Can—Help The Garbage Man

City Manager Charles T. McDonald urged all residents to report to the PHA maintenance office if their garbage cans are rusty or broken in any way. He stated that this is not only a sanitary measure but a safety one as well, as the garbage handlers might receive serious injuries by handling broken or rusty cans.

Thrifty Takes Two For Softball Crown

By E. DonBullion

Thanks are due the City's Recreation Department for making it possible for the District of Columbia's Amateur Softball Association to bring the best softball teams in the metropolitan area to Greenbelt. Between two and three thousand spectators nightly occupied every vantage point in Braden Field to see the deciding games of the tournament between Thrifty Beverages and Kavakos.

Hughes Out

Superb defensive play by Jack George and good pitching on the part of John Hughes resulted in a Thrifty victory by a score of 3-1 in the opener of the three games on Monday night. Wednesday saw an even larger crowd, expecting a pitchers' duel between John Hughes and Jack Smith. Hughes' football coach, however, prohibited softball playing, and John Hughes became a spectator at the second game. One bad inning caused Thrifty's downfall, Kavakos bunched their hits and scored 4 runs in the fifth inning, to win the ball game. Outstanding player was Kavakos manager Walter Smith, who got a double and two singles. Final score, Kavakos 8, Thrifty 3.

Hughes Back

The following night the crowd was in for a pleasant surprise. John Hughes showed up in uniform. It appears that Hughes cut his lip at football practice and Jack Haggerty gave him permission to complete his softball commitments. The fans were treated to a real pitchers battle. Hughes struck out 8, while Smith struck out 11. Hughes was more effective in the pinches with some wonderful support from Jack George in center field, who in addition to playing an exceptional game in the field also hit a home run with one on in the hectic 4th inning when all the runs in the game (3) were scored by Thrifty.

George vs. Jack

An analysis of the games shows that if it hadn't been for Thrifty's Jack George, Kavakos's Jack Smith would have been the series hero instead of the losing pitcher of the deciding game. Every time Jack Smith walked up to bat Jack George would walk back in center field. Smith really connected for what seemed like a sure home run last Monday but George, who was running with the crack of the bat, leaped up and caught the ball with both hands. The force of the ball brought him down on his hands and knees, but he held on to the ball for the out. In the deciding game on Thursday Jack George was again Smith's nemesis. Smith connected for two long flies to center field, in fact one of them was more in right than center, but George was the George-on-the-spot and caught both of them rather handily. As if this wasn't enough he had to hit a home run off Jack Smith to score two of the three runs of the game. Not to detract from George's wonderful game on Thursday night, it is only fair to give John Hughes credit for a really fine performance in that game. His pitching was almost perfect; he gave four hits which were spread out, for a shut out. He certainly shares the honors with George.

Good Stuff For Fans

The D. C. Amateur Softball Association should be commended for staging a tournament that has received the praise of both players and spectators. The umpires had every game under control at all times; even if they did miss one or two, as a whole they did an excellent job. (Don't forget, some of these ball players are not too easy to get along with.) The attendance at the games is a good indication of what the people of Greenbelt

North End School Resumes Sept. 12

Miss Thelma Smith, principal of the North End school, announced that all children returning to that school when it opens on Monday, September 12, at 9 a.m. should report to the same room they attended last year. New students should report to the music room for registration on the same day.

Children who are transferring to or from the North End school should report at the office on Friday, September 9, between 9 and 11.

Kindergarten Classes

Those children who have already registered for kindergarten will receive notices in the mail as to whether they will attend mornings or afternoons. Those children who have not as yet been registered for kindergarten should be so registered in the foyer of the school on Friday, September 9, from 9 a.m. to 12. Kindergarten classes will start on Thursday, September 15.

First graders of both schools will attend mornings only until further notice. Both schools will dismiss the children early on the first day of school.

Miss Smith announced that last year's staff of teachers will return this year. In addition there will be a new teacher, Miss Kathryn Ragan.

North End Glee Club Will Sing Sunday

The North End glee club will give an informal concert next Sunday afternoon, September 11, at 4 p.m. in the North End school auditorium. All the numbers on the program, varying from jolly folk songs to a poignant gypsy tune, have been learned during the summer under the city Recreation Department program. Most of the numbers will be performed by the whole chorus, but both the older and younger sections have worked out special music. Instrumental numbers will also be included to vary the program.

Everyone is invited to the concert, which is free of charge.

The seven- and eight-year-olds, who have practiced by themselves on Monday mornings, finished up their summer together with a party Wednesday afternoon. The older group, numbering just about half of the total will have a social at the Greenbelt Lake on Friday night. All arrangements for the socials and the concert are being made by the director, Mrs. Lyman L. Woodman.

JCC Starts Season With Picnic Sunday

The Greenbelt Jewish Community Center will hold its annual end-of-summer membership picnic at the Greenbelt lake on Sunday, September 18, beginning at 3 p.m.

The social committee, under the co-chairmanship of Nathan Shinderman and Nathan Schein, has scheduled an afternoon of fun and refreshments for both young and old. Meeting place for the group is at the lake pavilion.

The third annual dance has been set for December 10 at the Center school, with professional entertainment and dancing to the music of a well-known orchestra.

The building committee is actively engaged in selling enough bricks to get the proposed Jewish Community Center Building started. All who are interested in building or raising money for building materials are urged to contact the chairman, Jack Ratzkin, at 4461.

want in the way of sports. It is hoped that the softball championships become an annual affair in Greenbelt.

Women Voters Take Over Tradition Of Pre-Election Candidate Forum

Bruce Bowman, council candidate and president of the Greenbelt Citizens Association, announced this week that he will not act as moderator at the traditional election-eve Citizens Association meeting at which all candidates state their platforms.

Instead, the League of Women Voters has been asked to conduct the meeting, leaving Bowman free to participate as a candidate.

Announce Schedules For G.H.S. Buses

J. W. Heim, supervisor of transportation for the Prince Georges County Board of Education, announced the schedule of the school buses which will service Greenbelt High School. At 8 a.m. one bus will start from the intersection of Ridge and Southway and another from Southway and Crescent. Both buses will travel north and as soon as each is full it will leave for the school returning in 15 minutes to continue its northward course. After school the buses will return the students to the areas where they were picked up in the morning.

George Fetrov will drive bus No. 51 and Robert Black bus No. 40. Both of these men, college students, have had considerable experience in driving buses.

A third bus will service the area of Westway, Ridge and Crescent, beginning at 8:30. This bus will make just one trip.

According to M. E. Hernick, principal of Greenbelt High School, all students should report for the opening of school on Monday, September 12 at 9 a.m. Mr. Hernick stated that A. E. Robinson, supervisor of school construction for the Board of Education, had assured him that the new construction would be completed in time for the opening of school.

Fighting At Pool Marks Season's End

A near-perfect record for the recently ended season of the local swimming pool was spoiled on the last day, when an altercation involving "Pete" Cookson, life guard, and Frederick Kaye, 58-M Crescent, resulted in the latter's removal to the Leland Memorial Hospital by the Greenbelt Rescue Squad, where he was treated for a broken rib, blackened eye and numerous abrasions.

According to authoritative sources, the conflict began when Kaye was requested to leave the pool at the beginning of the 5 to 6 p.m. interval, which was instituted over a month ago. Words were exchanged, and Kaye refused to leave. When the fight began, police were called. They arrived to find Kaye lying on the grass outside the pool, breathing with difficulty, so the Rescue Squad was called.

After a preliminary investigation and questioning of witnesses, charges of disorderly conduct were made against Kaye. Both Cookson and Kaye have sworn out warrants of assault and battery.

Community Chorus Starts Third Year

The Greenbelt Community Chorus will hold its first rehearsal of the fall season in the home economics room of the Center school at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, September 12. The chorus will begin its third year under the leadership of Doctor Harlan Randall, head of the Department of Music at Maryland University. Anyone interested in group singing is invited to attend.

The meeting will be held Monday, September 19, at 8 p.m. in the Center auditorium. If the usual procedure is followed, each candidate will be allowed a certain amount of time to address the audience, with a question-and-answer session to complete the program.

Keep 'Em Straight!

Mrs. Wretha Petersen, chairman of the local branch of the Women Voters, said that many people have confused that group with the Greenbelt Voters Association which last week announced its support of five candidates. She emphasized the strict non-partisan nature of the League, and stated that it does not support any candidate or group of candidates.

The Citizens Association has sponsored the candidates' meetings in the past, as a public service. Since it is usually the only public gathering at which all candidates appear, a capacity crowd generally fills the auditorium the night before Greenbelt elections.

This year, there are 1592 registered voters—54 more than cast votes in 1947. According to City Clerk Winfield McCamy, 642 registered voters signed the petitions of the 11 candidates.

With only one more issue of The Cooperator to be published after this week's before the September 20 election, a striking indication of the lack of customary campaign strife is the Letters to the Editor column. So far, The Cooperator has had only five letters from candidates.

No Runoff?

Another Greenbelt tradition likely to be broken this year is the election runoff. In 1947, with 20 candidates in the field, only one (Thomas J. Canning) received on the first ballot the majority of votes necessary to election. To fill the other four seats, the eight candidates receiving the next highest number of votes were then voted upon, with all other candidates stricken from the ballot. The top four in the runoff were elected.

This year there are only 11 candidates to begin with, making easier the mathematical chances of getting a majority of whatever vote is cast. The large number of voters who participated in helping candidates by signing their nominating petitions indicates, however, that the tradition of large council votes in Greenbelt will continue.

Contributors Corner

An 11-year old girl with a generous heart and a sense of humor is this week's winner of our jackpot of prizes. For her charming report of an incident in her court, she receives a pass to the Greenbelt Theater, courtesy of Greenbelt Consumer Services; a dozen cokes donated by Veterans Liquors on Baltimore Boulevard; and a 5x7 photograph from Hans Jorgensen, local photographer, of 19-E Hillside. She writes:

"One day I was selling comic books and our little neighbor boy wanted one. He didn't have any money, so I just gave him one. The next day early in the morning he came over and said, 'Helen if you are selling any more comics today for nothing may I please have one?'"

To the Editor ON THE RECORD

As a candidate for the City Council I am running on my record of the last two years, and if elected I will continue to serve the best interests of all of the citizens of Greenbelt.

The Greenbelt Voters Association is supporting me. I am happy to have that support, but I am not running on a slate. I did not help select the other four candidates nor did I agree with them on a common platform. Each of the candidates will be glad to run on his own merits, I am sure and the voters should judge them on that basis.

To me housing is the paramount issue. I want Greenbelters to have a chance to own their homes. The Cooperator's excellent summary of the record of the three incumbents failed to mention that I was the author of the motion read before the Senate Committee.

Although the present Council has numerous achievements to its credit, there is much to be done in the general improvement of our community life. I shall be glad of the opportunity to help do it as a member of the Council.

Elizabeth S. Harrington.

GCS SALARIES

Although GCS is still barely making the same low net margin as last year, only 2.2% (in the past we have made as high as 5.1%) . . . In spite of the fact that only two stores substantially increased sales, the food store and the gas station . . . And even though our ratio of current assets to current liabilities has deteriorated badly, 208,562 to 138,747 in 1949, compared with 203,987 to 81,747 in 1948. I understand that the board of directors met in closed session on June 10 and August 12 and voted upon motion of Mrs. Harper the following increased salaries:

General Mgr. . . . .	9,000.
Ass't Gen. Mgr. . . . .	7,500.
Food Store Mgr. . . . .	6,240.
Pharmacy Mgr. . . . .	5,720.
Theatre Mgr. . . . .	5,460.
Controller . . . . .	5,600.
Electrician . . . . .	4,420.
Display Mgr. . . . .	4,160.
Valet Store Mgr. . . . .	4,160.

The General Manager's salary is that received from GCS only and does not include other sums from other co-op sources.

A. C. Long.

[Editor's Note: According to the general manager, he receives no "sums from co-op sources" other than his salary from GCS.]

MORE ON COMINGS

Although the Cooperator has placed a 150-word limit on letters to the editor from council candidates, it was felt that Steve L. Comings should be allowed more space, in view of the fact that last week's biographical sketches of all candidates carried only very limited information about him. As the item on Comings said, he was out of town and the information published was received from a close associate.

In your issue of September 1, there appeared an article setting forth the qualifications of candidates for City Councilman. Your editorial stated: "Information on all candidates, with the exception of the incumbents, came from the potential councilmen themselves." This is inaccurate and incomplete and, therefore, I am impelled to submit the following facts about my background and experience:

I am 34 years old, married, and have a son and a daughter. I attended Mississippi State College and graduated from Southeastern University, Washington, D. C., am a Certified Public Accountant, member of American Institute of Accountants, National Association of Cost Accountants, Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants, and hold a Treasury Card to act as agent before the Treasury Department on all types of Federal taxes.

I was formerly a special agent investigator with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and over five years was successively Assistant Chief Cost Accountant, Staff Accountant, and Executive Accountant for the Glenn L. Martin Company, Baltimore. During this time, I commuted over 80 miles a day in order to continue to make my home in Greenbelt, which I consider an ideal community. I left the Glenn L. Martin Company to take a position as Chief Accountant for The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

I served on the auditing committee for the Greenbelt Consumers Services and am now auditor for the Greenbelt Community Church and performed an audit for the Guilds of that Church last year. I am a charter member of the Greenbelt Veterans Housing Corporation, a member of the sponsoring group for the Greenbelt Boys Club, and Director and Auditor of The Greenbelt Athletic Club. Having participated in college football, track, and boxing. I am naturally interested in sports, although now I have turned lately to golf, tennis, and softball.

DOUBLE PLATFORM

We take this means of expressing our appreciation to all our friends for their earnest efforts in advancing our candidacy for city councilmen of Greenbelt.

Especially we wish to thank the Greenbelt Voters Association for its public endorsement. The apparent issues during this campaign appear to be those of personalities. Actually there are a number of problems the new council will face.

1. Housing. We believe that Greenbelt should be sold as a unit to the residents acting through an organization such as GVHC. It is essential that the city council be in accord with the wishes of the citizens in this respect. In the meantime the council should lead the active fight for a reduction of current excessive rentals.

2. Political Recognition. It is important that Greenbelt take a place in county and state affairs proportionate to its size and importance as a community. Better roads, better schools, and better health facilities are at stake.

3. Recreation. Additional recreational facilities are needed for our children, and the North End area. Present facilities, primarily established for children, have been largely usurped by adults. The North End has never had adequate facilities. A re-examination of the swimming pool operation and budget might disclose a possible adjustment of rates favoring residents.

4. Zoning. Salutary work has been done on the zoning ordinance. We must preserve the attractive aspects of Greenbelt particularly as regards the encroachment of the proposed highway. The zoning ordinance should be pushed through as soon as possible.

5. An adequate budget, to provide facilities and services essential to good government, should be established. A strong, unified, and cooperative council will be more nearly able to procure the necessary funds for such a budget.

We present this joint statement of our platform, confident that it represents the opinions of our friends and fellow citizens in Greenbelt.

Walter J. Bierwagen

This may sound impossible but it actually happened. Not so long ago a man paid $228 for an Occidental Family Income policy. Unexpectedly he died. Under the terms of this policy his widow, left with a young daughter, began to receive a check for $100 from us every month.

By the time this benefit stops in 1965, she will have received $42,000. Sounds like pretty sound insurance for a family man, doesn't it? Let me tell you how reasonable it is. Just call

Boys Club Starts Drive Monday

The Greenbelt Boys' Club will start its second annual membership fund drive on Monday, September 12, and will continue it through Sunday, September 25.

The Boys' Club, whose program includes football, baseball, basketball and boxing, has provided the first opportunity for Greenbelt boys to participate with other communities in a competitive athletic program. The local Midget baseball team was chosen over 700 other teams in the East to play in the Midget World Series at Oklahoma City, which was called off for this year due to a polio epidemic there.

During last year's drive for funds in Greenbelt, the Boys' Club collected over $1100. This money purchased 25 football uniforms for the midget, junior and senior teams. The remainder, together with contributions from business people, was used to purchase 57 baseball uniforms, balls and bats for the midgets, juniors and seniors. Altho the Greenbelt Boys' Club is one of the best equipped in the state as far as baseball is concerned, it needs additional equipment for football and boxing. John J. Noone, who won a radio jackpot recently, has donated one of his prizes, a complete gymnasium to the Greenbelt club.

Next week members of the Boys' Club will canvass Greenbelt homes for contributions.

The second annual meeting of the members and parents of the Greenbelt Boys' Club will be held at the Center school auditorium this Friday night at 7:30 p.m. All boys participating in Club activities are urged to attend this meeting as well as their parents.

The Greenbelt Boys' Club Midgets will be guests at the Community Church morning service this Sunday at 11 a.m. Reverend Braund's sermon will be on "Youth."

Midgets Football Tryouts Tomorrow

All candidates for the Boys' Club Midget Football team are requested to report to Braden Field tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for tryouts. The team will be coached by H. M. Goode, Richard Hause and Wayne Jernberg. All boys who were 12 years of age last January 1 are eligible to play. A full schedule against Washington Boys' Clubs is being arranged.

Greenbelter On Midway

F. R. LaMacchia, 2-G Plateau, an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve, is aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Midway for a two-week training cruise.

The Midway, with Ens. La Macchia aboard, is part of the task force engaged in Naval maneuvers in the North Atlantic. The ship, one of the nation's largest carriers, served as the starting point for the Navy jet fighters which flew from

Drop Inn Renovates For Winter Season

The youth center has been buzzing with activity this past week as teen-agers exchanged their table tennis paddles for hammers and saws, and trained their dancing feet to run up and down ladders.

Youth center members have chosen September as their clean-up and renovation month and have set up a furniture repair committee, headed by Joe Fulks; a paint committee headed by Conrad Roehling; a floor-sanding committee headed by the Kellaher brothers; window-washing committee headed by Sheila Reuben; and a slip-cover and drapery committee headed by Zoe Fulks. Mrs. Henry Walter is organizing a group of parents to work on the slip-covers, while Mr. Walter is assisting the furniture repair group.

Painting and furniture crews have already dug into their work with quite noticeable result for their efforts. Other groups will begin work soon.

All this is being done in preparation for the return to the full-time fall and winter program, which will begin October 1 with the "Salute to Youth" dance being planned by the Advisory Board and Recreation Department. Until then, the building will be open on the week-end nights as before, with outside activities planned when repairs interfere with the use of the building.

Midgets End Season With Two Victories

The champion Boys' Club Midget Baseball team concluded its season over the weekend by rolling over the Cleveland Park Tigers and the Ballston Indians by scores of 17-4 and 17-7. Both opponents held earlier season wins over Greenbelt. The record of the local club shows 32 wins against 4 defeats for the season.

Tony Baker and Johnny Lewis shared pitching honors in the Cleveland Park fray with Bobby Miller doing the catching. Johnny Lewis and Jim Stripling combined to set down the Virginia invaders with the hard-working Miller again behind the plate. Miller, Knott and Stripling provided the batting punch in both contests.

Along Our Street

with Aunt Penny

A Long Distance telephone call from someone in the family who's away from home usually means a great deal. So I understand how excited Mrs. Sholl must have been to hear from her boy, Don, who's in the Army. She told me he called from San Francisco this morning and that he'd be home on furlough next month.

I was so happy for her I didn't stop to think that I had been using the telephone a lot during the morning, making arrangements for the coming church festival. If I'd been on the line when Don called, he wouldn't have gotten through because Mrs. Sholl and I share the same telephone party line.

It made me realize how important it is for party-line neighbors to use their telephone service "sharingly." Next time I have to call a number of people, I'll certainly allow some time between calls so that others on the line have a chance to make and receive calls too.
